PORTALES MAN CLAIMS HOG CHAMPIONSHIP OF VALLEY

HOG CHAMPIONSHIP OF VALLEY Portales, N. M. Feb. 15.—Carl Muellen claims the hog championship of the velley in addition to being one of the beat farmers in this section. His claims are based on the fact that he raised some fine Poland China pigs and said them for fancy prices, one selling for $30. This is but a sample of the kind of stock being grown in the Portales valley and many other farmers are planning to put in large droves of hogs.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla Which Renovates the Blood,

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, bolks, and other eruptions are signs that it is impure, and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is when to head.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that fired feeling. It chanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

J. H. Nations Says Cattlemen Favor Opening Strictly Agricultural Lands.

Are the cattlemen opposing the 540 acre homestead law proposed for the public domain in scattered sections throughout the west? J. H. Nations, president of the Fanhandle & Southwestern Stockmen's association, states that their information to that effect emenating from Washington, D. C. grew out of an inaccurate or etroneous quoting of romarks made by Dwight B. Heard, president of the American National Livestock association, while making an address before the National Wool Growers' association in Salt Lake City, Utah.

"We adopted a resolution at the recent meeting in El Pasc," said Mr. Nations, "which put us on record as favoring the opening up of the public domain and the only provise in that resolution was that after these lands have been classified, those found chief. By valuable for grazing and for the production of livestock shall be placed under such government supervision as congress deems most feasible under the varying conditions in the different states.

States.

Heard Says He Was Misquoted.

"Mr. Heard says he in Salt Lake City before attending the convention in El Paso and the newspaper either inadvertently misquoted him or misconstrued the information. When Mr. Heard came to El Paso he stated emphatically that he had been misquoted. "The Washington information, which I read later, gave rise to the impression that the cartiemen were against the opening up of the public domain to homesteaders because the president of our national association had been misquoted.

"The national forest reserve is under government supervision and both cattle and sheep men are permitted, under certain conditions to graze their stock at a fixed rate. This is a reciprocal act as it aids the forests in the elimination of superflueus undergrowth; while on the other hand the stock are not permitted to graze when the trees are young. Grazing under these conditions is helpful to the forests.

The resolutions which we passed at our recent meeting in El Paso covers well any question that is raised as to whether or not the cattlemen are with or against the opening up of the public domain."

May Cost Ten Million Dollars; To Celebrate the Founding of Texas.

Estimates of the cost of San Antoanniversary of the founding of the city, anniversary of the founding of the city, range from $5,000,000 to $16,000,000, according to George F. Lupton, fall commissioner, who passed through El Paso Monday night en roule to San Prancisco.

"San Antonio is going to have the first 200th anniversary celebration ever held by an American city," said Mr. Lupton, "and, while only tentative plans have thus far been laid, we have the assurance of the support of not only Texas but of other sections of the country. A few days ago we entertained 100 manufacturers from Cleveland, Ohio. During the dinner we were siven assurance by one speaker that Ohio would have a state building at the fair.

El Pase to Help.

El Pase to Help.

Tour city is growing wonderfully and is alive to everything that benefits Texas.

The purpose of the fair is to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the founding of San Antonto by the monke. The building of the missions there made possible Texas, New Mexico, Arisona and Oklahoma. The fair will start in January. 1915. and will continue through the flesta in April.

"I am en route to San Francisco, where I am to confer with men who were connected with the Pan-American exposition with the end in view of gathering data that can be utilized in working out our exposition. From San Francisco I will go to San Diego, for the same purpose. The idea of getting ideas from the Pacific const expositions was advanced by Brechnridae Jones, of the Mississippi Trust company, and was quickly taken up by the committee with the result that I am on my way."

Mr. Lupton, who is general manager of the San Antonic & Aransas Passialroad, stated that there will be a good attendance of editors from towns along his line to the Texas Press association meeting in El Paso, and ventured the prediction that, despite the distance to be traveled to reach this city, the attendance from all over the slate will be large.

"Ton will receive a world of benefit from that convention in free advertising," axid Mr. Lupton. "After the Corpus Christi convention, I kept all the clippings I could get. When I was through I had a string over 600 feet long."
